

Futures Conference

Tuesday 30 June

19.15 to 21.15

Radley College

From designing robots in space to shaping how music reaches millions, this careers event brings together people doing extraordinary things in very different ways.

Some roles focus on creativity and the future, others about solving problems, analysing data, or making big decisions under pressure. Whether you want to make a difference in healthcare, build businesses, or fix projects when things go wrong, there's something for everyone.

Hear from people working in:

- Management consultancy
- Investment banking
- Cyber security
- Engineering
- Journalism
- Marketing
- ... and many more

Why this matters:

- Get honest, insider insights into real careers
- Ask the questions you actually want answered
- Start building connections that could shape your future

What to expect:

- Career talks – Small group sessions (approx. 20 minutes including Q&A)
- Timed networking session – Opportunity to speak with different speakers or ask follow-up questions in more depth
- Open networking session – Ideal time to ask about speakers' wider experience or other roles and contacts in their industry

You need to:

Read It – Take a look at the speaker profiles HERE or

Research It – Explore the speakers further:

- LinkedIn profiles
- Company websites
- Online searches

Choose It – Select three talks you would like to attend. You will attend two, but choosing three helps:

- Smaller groups, better discussions
- Provides a backup option if needed

Prepare Questions – what do you want to find out
